There are two IELTS tests – Academic and General Training. The Listening and Speaking sections are the same; However, the topics of the Reading and Writing papers differ. At CEC we prepare students for the Academic section. Students interested in taking the General Training section should contact the school academic department.

Our courses are suited to both lower (4.5 -5.5) and higher (6.0-7.5) level IELTS students. The IELTS preparation course aims to develop your general English language and skills knowledge while also providing thorough preparation in the format of the IELTS test. Classes give you a thorough grounding in all four skills as well as expanding general and academic English vocabulary, improving grammar and perfecting your functional and conversational language. In addition classes focus on the format of the exam (both general and academic as required) and on improving test-taking techniques.

Through integrated exam practice you will strengthen your ability to respond effectively to exam tasks and maximize your IELTS score. The course covers all of the main areas needed to get a better score on the speaking, reading, writing and listening sections of the IELTS test. CEC is the only private language school in Cork authorised to run the IELTS test
